

Rebekah Zufelt

Rebekah Zufelt is an Associate at Keesal, Young & Logan in the firm's Long Beach office. With a well-rounded practice focusing on civil litigation, Rebekah handles a diverse range of matters within the securities, employment, and maritime sectors. She is committed to delivering strategic, results-driven legal solutions to her clients, drawing on her extensive academic background and practical experience.

Rebekah earned her Juris Doctor degree from Pepperdine University School of Law in 2024, graduating Magna Cum Laude. During her time at Pepperdine, she distinguished herself as an Associate Editor for the Pepperdine Law Review, where she contributed to the editorial process and assisted in the publication of scholarly legal articles. Additionally, Rebekah served as a Research Assistant, collaborating with faculty members on several articles that were later published in prominent legal journals.

Before pursuing her law degree, Rebekah obtained her Bachelor of Arts in Government, with an emphasis on Legal Studies, from Grand Canyon University, where she graduated with honors. She also holds a minor in Psychology. Throughout her undergraduate studies, Rebekah demonstrated a strong commitment to public service by interning for Justice Corps, a program under AmeriCorps, where she spent two years assisting low-income individuals with accessing legal resources.

Rebekah was also a standout member of her university's Mock Trial team, where she won multiple tournaments during her time on the team. As a board member, she played a key role in guiding the team's success while honing her advocacy and public speaking skills, which further enhanced her legal abilities and courtroom presence.

With a strong foundation in both legal theory and hands-on experience, Rebekah is well-equipped to navigate complex legal challenges and provide exceptional service to her clients.
